Why would an index make joins faster?

```sql
SELECT count(*) FROM cfb_play A, cfb_play B WHERE A.play_number = B.play_number;
```

How long should this query take?

We can join the indexed team with the non-indexed team with the following query. How long will it take?